Messrs. JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

The Life of Thomas Jefferson,

"We have read it from the first to the last page, with both instruction and delight. He produces every individual and event he aims to represent. Nobody is dead in his narrative. One would think that the biographer was a friend and a contemporary of the subject of his biography—was simply gossipping about him and his friends and enemies; and certainly every person who can enjoy a novel can read with pleasure this Life of Jefferson."—Boston Globe.

Theodore Parker.

A Biography. By Octavius Brooks Frothingham. With Heliotype Portrait 1 vol. 8vo..$3.00

Mr. Frothingham has given a large number of Parker's letters and journals not previously published. He has written in the light reflected upon Parker's words and efforts by the momentous events which have agitated this country within the last fifteen years, and which have brought out in bold relief the sagacity, wisdom, and heroism of Theodore Parker's career; and he has written so candidly, and with so profound an appreciation of Parker's characteristic qualities, that his book is of surpassing interest, and must have a wide circulation.

Fables in Song.

A New Volume of Poems. By Owen Meredith (Lord Lytton). Third edition. 16mo. Gilt top. Cabinet edition......$2.00

A new volume of poems by the author of "Lucile" is sure of a wide reading. These "Fables in Song" are such as Æsop might have written if he had lived in this century and enjoyed its best culture. They cover a large range of topics; they puncture deftly many a folly and sham; they are pervaded by practical good sense; and they are written in varied measures so peculiarly attractive that they will delight persons who do not usually read poetry. Though so recently issued, they have already run through two editions.

Yesterdays with Authors.

By James T. Fields. New and cheaper edition. One volume. 12mo.....$2.00

"Mr. Fields has certainly met with signal success in the composition of an entertaining volume. It will offer a rare charm to the lovers of literary anecdote—a class which probably includes the whole of its readers—and in many considerable portions possesses an interest no less enticing than the naive recitals of Boswell, or the pleasant recollections of Crabb Robinson."—N. V. Tribune.

NOTES IN SEASON.

LAUGEL'S 'England, Political and Social," a complement of Taine's "Notes on England," will be issued within the fortnight by the Putnams, as excellently translated by Prof. Hart, of Cornell. It is an exceedingly brilliant and spicy work, and promises a wide circulation. From it we quote one or two passages: "England, living by the past, so to speak, affording to the continent the only image of stability that it still recognizes, cannot escape the universal laws of human affairs." "The English constitution is like a complicated machine, where we cannot break a single part without stopping the whole. Everything is suspended by a few venerable opinions, twisted together like the strands of a cord; let but a strand or two break and the whole cord may give way and everything be dashed to pieces at once."

"THE Proceedings, Addresses, and Essays of the Evangelical Alliance" is now ready, and is in course of delivery to the subscribers, but the Messrs. Harper expect soon to put it into the hands of the trade. It is a volume of the size of their bound magazine, and embraces the reports, statistics, addresses, essays, and other matter that came before that body. It is not, however a mere bound volume of undigested documents, but is a collection of valuable papers prepared by the ablest modern theologians, and covers the entire field of present religious thought.

GEN. JAS. F. RUSLING, who accompanied Gen. Sherman in his tour of inspection West, and who afterwards spent a year and a half largely in visiting parts of the country where white men had never before penetrated, has written a book called "Across America," which the Sheldons will shortly publish. The book is to be illustrated by Lumley with drawings from photographs.

HENRY HOLT & Co. have nearly ready that important financial work, Prof. Sumner's "History of American Currency;" the Reminiscences of Henry F. Chorley, as condensed, and Auerbach's "Waldfried," all of which will probably be published by the middle of the month

MR. HOWARD CHALLEN'S "Philadelphia Trade Directory" is now ready in an octavo pamphlet of 28 pages of reading matter and lists and something more than that of advertisements. former include descriptive paragraphs as to Philadelphia dealers, and a full directory of them, arranged by specialties, and including all which have to do directly or indirectly with the paper and printing interests. It will be found useful for Mr. Challen requests us to state its purpose. that any bookseller or stationer who does not receive a copy will have it sent to him gratis if he will inclose his card to Mr. Challen.

BUSINESS CHANGES.

WATERTOWN, N. Y .- Hanford & Wood have been succeed by Hanford & Waterman, wholesale and retail dealers in books, stationery, and paper-hangings. Catalogues and price lists wanted.

WHEELING, W. VA.-J. D. Stanton has sold an interest in his book and stationery business to his brother, Frank Stanton. The style of the firm will hereafter be Stanton Bros.

"Bargain" Catalogues.

THE state of the book trade is now about this: either discounts must be reorganized so as to preserve retail prices, or retail prices must go by the board, and underselling be acknowledged as the trade method-which means the demoralization of the retailers pretty nearly out of existence. We have two notable examples of "cutting under" before us this week. The one is the socalled "clearance catalogue" of a well-known Broadway house, which we had thought sufficiently awake to the interests of the trade not to attempt underselling. The other, the "bargain catalogue" of books for sale by "the --- club," Chicago. Now, clearance catalogues, like clearance auction sales, are perfectly legitimate, but this first named list is not a clearance catalogue at all. Fresh, salable books are quite as well represented as dead stock, such as the moment they were "cleared off" would be reordered at once from the publishers. The house does not advertise its own issues for sale below price, but what is to be expected in such a case? Either for retaliation or in competition, other houses will undersell its books, and nothing can be said against it.

The Chicago "club" prints a representative catalogue in a monthly before us, and gives a full list of American publishers by name, classing them according to the amount of discount the "club" can give on their books-respectively a third, thirty, twenty-five. We trust the publishers who are thus posted will be pleased at the prominence given them. Too many have brought it upon themselves, but all suffer together.

Which of the alternatives will the publishers choose ?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The interests of the trade cannot be better served than by a full discussion by its members of all questions which affect it. Our columns are always open to communications on any such subject, provided they be brief and suggestive, and we cordially invite the trade to express any suggestions or opinions of interest or value in "Letters to the Editor."

The Classification of Scientific Books,

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2, 1874.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly. EVERY publisher or extensive dealer in scientific books classifies them according to his own ideas, or does not classify them at all. So also with regard to every one who makes a catalogue of them.

Now it seems to me that but one square thought is necessary to see that there would be a decided advantage to all having anything to do with scientific books, from the publisher to the consumer, including libratians, and especially dealers and their clerks, to have the best classification made that can be, and then adopted by all who publish or catalogue scientific books.

If the main divisions of the classification were numbered, and the sub-divisions lettered, and then when a book is announced and each time it is advertised in a trade journal give the number and letter of the classification, it would be a great saving of time to the dealers; and time is money, and the greater ease with which a business can be done the more business will naturally be done in it. Very few of those who sell scientific books know anything of science, and many a sale is lost on account of the want of information of the

The following is a classification that we have been working under for several years, both cataloguing and arranging our stock according to it, and we have found it to work very satisfactorily; but the difficulty with us is that no other classincation is the same as ours:

I would suggest that the principal publishers and dealers in scientific books, and any others who may be especially interested or capable, consult together and adopt a classification which can be permanent. Let each one of them thereafter use that classification in their lists and catalogues. and the trade journals do the same, and all of the dealers in the country will be glad to do so, and the result will be that even those who have very little to do with scientific books can make themselves familiar with the business and will be enabled to do more in it.

Very truly.

A. L. BANCROFT.

Underselling Data.

Miss., March 25, 1874.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly.

WE read with interest your editorials and communications upon the subject of selling by publishers at wholesale prices to persons not in the book-trade, and to schools, at such prices as the local bookseller cannot afford to give.

A customer asked us the price of a set of books which we had in store, and we replied $50 (the publisher's price). He stated very significantly, "Oh, I can send on and get them for $30 or $40." We replied, "Write and get the publisher's price to you, and we will sell you the books at that price, be it $25 or $50." We saw the letter in which the publisher offered the books at $40one-fifth off. We could have gotten from the publisher only three-tenths on that particular book. It was an encyclopædia.

A teacher wrote an order for school books, and stated that he could get one-fourth from the publishers. We declined to sell at that price.

The retail trade are now selling at a wholesale price to teachers, but they will discontinue that as We are glad to see soon as the publishers do so. the movement among the publishers on tins subject. Our opinion is that there should not be a wholesale or reduced price to teachers.

As soon as the publishers stop the teachers' discounts, we expect to sign and get signed an agreement, by every bookseller within a reasonable distance, not to sell to teachers except at the retail price. We offer this as a suggestion to other booksellers.

CORRESPONDENCE.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, March 30 .- A curious and important question in insurance law, of special interest to all publishers, has just arisen here. A short time ago a fire occurred in the bindery of Wm. Rutter & Co., where were stored considerable quantities of sheet stock belonging to different publishing houses. Much of this stock was damaged by water, including the sheet stock of a work published by Stoddart & Co. This stock was insured for its value as paper and print, at the rate of 32 cents per copy, the publication price of the book being $2.50. The sheets were price of the book being $2.50. The sheets were sufficiently damaged to make them unsalable as new books, but were still readable. The insurance company offered to pay the full amount of the policy, but claimed the sheets, which they proposed to put into cheap cloth binding, and sell for whatever was offered for them. To this the publisher naturally objected, because by putting a large number of copies of the book on the market at a greatly reduced price, the regular sale of the book would be quite ruined. The insurance company had a clear title to the sheets, provided they were mutilated and sold as waste paper; but it is equally clear that they had no right to interfere with the business of the insured, by flooding the market with interior and damaged copies of the book, at a price far below that fixed by him. The value of a book is separate and distinct from its worth as so many ounces of paper and straw board. The insurance company, by selling the sheets in question for anything more than their value as pounds of waste paper, would be using without permission the ideas of the author and the business skill of the publisher, on which he has risked his trading capital, whereby the value known as the "publication price" has been cre-This view of the case has been taken until now by every insurance company in adjusting losses with publishers. The case of Stoddart & Co. still remains unsettled, but if it should go into court it is safe to predict that the ruling will be against the insurance company.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has taken upon itself to dabble with the school books used in the public schools, and a bill to provide for uniform school books throughout the State has been introduced in the Senate. It provides that a board consisting of the State Superintendent and three citizens shall examine all school books, and pick out a complete series in all grades, including all branches of study. Those selected shall be used in the public schools for five years, beginning from September, 1875. The board is to ascertain from the publishers on what terms they will supply the books selected, and also the terms on which the copyrights may be acquired by the State. If the board fails to agree on any particular book necessary to complete the series, the members are to supply the deficiency themselves by preparing a new book. This summary in-cludes all the essential points in the bill. The constant changing of the text books in the public schools, before the children have had time to go half through them, is a very serious evil, and one which the advocates of the bill think this measure will cure. It, however, paves the way for quite as many evils as it professes to remedy. assurance is there that the three citizens who are to be members of the board will know anything more about educational matters than the men of straw who now act as school directors? come a school director is recognized as the first step in the ladder of political success, and in Philadelphia the office is in nearly every case filled by some mere ward politician. There are doubtless many worthless books now used in the public schools, but under the proposed law it would be possible to enforce the uniform use of a series of worthless books for a period of five years, without the possibility of a change during the prescribed

The indications are that we are not going to have a very brilliant spring trade. The jobbing houses are doing enough to keep their packing departments tolerably busy, but the orders are light. Forster's third volume of the Life of Charles Dickens has sold very satisfactorily Ouida's story, "Bébée," has also been very suc-cessful, and Proctor's "Borderland of Science" has been a very profitable venture. J. B. Lippin-cott & Co. are just on the point of issuing "Memoirs of John Quincy Adams," by Charles Francis Adams, vol. 1; "Plato," by Clifton W. Collins, forming one of the "Ancient Classics for English Readers;" and the first volume of Prescott's Peru, edited by John Foster Kirke. The same firm have the following books nearly ready: "The Heir of Malreward," by the author of "Son and Heir;" "Ligation of Arteries," by L. H. Farabeuf; "As It Should Be," by "Alex"; "The Life of Benjamin Franklin," edited by Hon. John Bigelow, 3 vols., crown 8vo.; Lieber's 'Civil Liberty, 'revised by Dr. Theodore D. Woolsey; "The Villages of the Bible," by Rev. E. Paxton Hood; "The Four Civilizations of the World," by Henry Wikoff; "The Universe and the Coming Transits," by Professor Proctor; and "The Concordance to Shakespeare's Poems," by Mrs. Horace Howard Furness, the wife of the author of the Variorum Shakespeare.

Porter & Coates have several novels in active preparation, as follows: "No Alternative," by Mrs. Pender Cudlip, better known as Annie Thomas, a brilliant and sparkling writer, whose novels have hitherto been very successful; "The Vicissitudes of Bessie Fairfax," by Miss Harriet Parr, whose nom de plume of Holm Lee is very well known; and a novel translated from the German of Carl Detlef, the title of which has not yet been decided upon. The author is known in this country by his "Might it Be," and other works of fiction. The new book was published in Germany under the title of "Between Father and Son," but as this title was very much like that of another book still selling, the publishers have decided to change it.

As might be expected, the great prophet of temperance could not allow the women's crusade to pass unnoticed. It was too important an event in the annals of the cause to be permitted to subside without being turned to account. Accordingly, a tale from the pen of T. S. Arthur is announced, entitled "Woman to the Rescue: a Tale of the Crusade." It will be illustrated, and sold by subscription; price $1.25. Stoddart & Co. are the publishers. Another work founded on current events is "The History of the Grange Movement," just published by the National Publishing Company. This company has recently added a printing office to its establishment. It already had a bindery, and now manufactures its pooks completely.

T. B. Peterson & Bros, have just ready for publication Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth's "Victor's Triumph." It forms a "sequel" to "A Beautiful Fiend," and with those who admire sensational writing it will be a favorite. The cheap reissue of Mrs. Newby's novels, lately published by this firm, I understand to have sold very largely.

BOOKS RECEIVED.

THE BIBLICAL MUSEUM, by James Comper Gray. Vols. 3-4. (A. D. F. Randolph & Co.) These two volumes of the "Biblical Museum" contain Notes on the Acts of the Apostles and Romans, and on the First Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians down to Philemon. The notes are explanatory, homiletic, and illustrative, and are especially designed for the use of ministers and Sunday-school teachers. Each 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

THE SAFEST CREED, by O. B. Frothingham. (Asa K. Butts & Co.) This is a number of "recent discourses of reason," from the first of which the title of the book is taken. They all advocate the most extreme rationalistic views, and strongly attack all traditions upon which creeds are based. They are written with the grace of style which distinguishes everything from the pen of Mr. Frothingham. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

COLONEL DACRE, a novel, by the author of "Caste." (Harper & Bros.) The Blue Ribbon, a novel, by the author of "St. Olave's" (Harper & Bros.) The very sight of the brown covers of Harper's "Library of Select Novels" gives a thrill of pleasure to the experienced novel-reader, so sure is he of finding choice entertainment from any one of the works of fiction of which this remarkably good collection is made up. The above novels will keep up the reputation of the edition as the best selection published. "The Blue Ribbon" is particularly charming, well written, and unexceptionable in tone. "Colonel Dacre" will be found an extremely interesting story of an English home. Each 8vo, paper, 50 cents.

DESPERATE REMEDIES, by T. Hardy. (Henry Holt & Co.) A remarkable novel, original in conception, and marked throughout by a strong individuality. Mr. Hardy's latest novel, "Far from the Madding Crowd," has raised him into sudden fame. It is announced by this house for publication, and will, like the above, belong to the "Leisure Hour Series." 16mo, cloth, $1.25.

EPIDEMIC DELUSIONS: a lecture by Frederic R. Marvin, M.D. (Asa K. Butts & Co.) This lecture was read before the New York Liberal Club on the 9th of May last, and its contents are well denoted by its title. It is well printed on tinted paper. 12mo, cloth, 50 c.; pap. 25 c.

THE WHITE ROSE, by Mary J. Hedges. (Na tional Temperance Society and Publication House.) A story which all turns upon the giving of a "white rose" by a poor little newsboy to a rich but lonely little girl. This simple act of kindness brings about a combination of events, out of which a very pretty story grows. The evil of the day, intemperance, is the principal theme of the book. It will be found shown up in all its revolting aspects. 16mo, cloth, $1.25. From the same house we have "The National Temperance Orator," a collection of dialogues, prose, and poetical articles, designed for the use of temperance workers. 12mo, cloth, $1.

THE HIDDEN SIN, by Miss Eliza A. Dupuy. (T. B. Peterson & Bros.) A highly colored sensational story, a sequel to "The Dethroned Heiress." 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

TRODDEN DOWN, by Mrs. C. J. Newby. (T. B. Peterson & Bros.) The Petersons are issuing all of Mrs. Newby's popular novels uniform with the above. In octave form and paper covers, each 50 cents.

No Name. A novel by Wilkie Collins. (Harper & Bros.) Wilkie Collins has a wonderful power of fascinating his readers. Scarcely a page that he writes but teems with interest. "No Name" is one of his most finished productions. "Magdalen Vanstone," the heroine, has few equals in fiction, and "Capt. Wragge, the moral agriculturist," is as quaintly humorous a characterization as any of his creations we can now recall. The volume belongs to the complete edition of his works which the Harpers are bringing out under the title of "The Illustrated Library Edition. Fully illustrated. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

THREE attractive looking books for boys and girls pretty well advanced in their reading, from Robert Carter & Bros.: "Maggie's Mistake," a story told by a little school-girl, contains eighteen full-page illustrations by L. Frolich, 16no, $1.25; "The New Scholars," by Joanna H. Mathews, author of the "Bessie Books," a charming story for the young people; it is the second volume of the series; "Miss Ashton's Girls," 16mo, cloth, $1.25; and two stories bound together entitled "Between the Cliffs" and "Wandering May," by Emma Marshall. 16mo, cloth, $1.00.

LITERARY AND TRADE NEWS.

The Bookseller speaks of the two series of religious publications that were competing in London 30 years ago—those of the Parker Society and the Library of Anglo-Catholic Theology. The former had 7,000 or more subscribers, and included Cranmer, Latimer, Jewell, etc., but the later volumes were less important, and sets may now be had cheaply, uncut. The other having less than 2,000 subscribers, including the young Oxford school, issued Andrewe's, Laud's, and others' works; of this sets are scarce, and the Messrs. Parker accordingly announce a reissue, six volumes a year for one guinea (half the old price), commencing with two volumes each of Bishops Andrew's, Wilson's, and Cosin's sermons.

"A HISTORY of Dutch Literature" has been written by a Mr. M. W. Everts—who takes rather a new view of the merits and demerits of Dutch authors—and is already passing through a second edition.

"OUR Sketching Club," St. John Tyrwhitt's new book, now issuing serially in Old and New, is to include, by Mr. Ruskin's commission, the important parts and the wood-cuts of the latter's "Elements of Drawing," which he refuses to reprint. It will be published by Macmillan & Co.

A NEW work is announced by the author of "The Romance of Peasant Life." Mr. F. G. Heath, entitled "The English Peasantry." It treats of the social and political life of the English rural classes, and is to include quite a full account of Canon Girdleston's work of emigration,

SOME enterprising Harvard students propose to publish a book, profusely illustrated by heliotypes, on the social history of the University, its buildings, and sketches of the Professors.

THE house of S. C. Griggs & Co, is the recipient of the highest praise from the Chicago press. The Journal in especial refers to "the noble work they are doing in the way of publishing new books of value. They never publish trash. The trademark, S. C. Griggs & Co., is a guarantee of substantial merit. Their success is creditable and useful to the West, for their publications fairly express our growth in a literary point of view. The Prairie States are developing intellectually, no less than materially, with 'the widening of the suns.'"

AUERBACH's new novel, "Waldfrieë," just published in Germany, will be issued in English, by Sampson Low & Co., London, in Russian by Lubow Iwanow, St. Petersburg, in Dutch, by P. N. van Kempen & Zoon, Amsterdam, and in Italian by Botta, Rome. In this country the New York Belletrestische Journal is publishing it in German, and H. Holt & Co. have nearly ready the English translation, by an American.

GENERAL CUSTER'S "Life on the Plains" will not appear till fall.

A NEW historical tragedy by Mr. George H. Calvert, an able scholar, "The Maid of Orleans," will be published by the Putnams. It has heretofore been in print for private circulation only.

MISS GILBERT has been successful in her efforts to collect a library for the inmates of the Tombs, and now announces its completion. It is to be situated in the Council Room, and will be dedicated the 5th of this month, when there will be music and addresses appropriate to the occasion. The Commissioners of Charities and Corrections furnished the book-case, and many of the publishers in the city liberally contributed books, Appleton, giving one hundred volumes; Harper, one hundred volumes; Blakeman, one hundred volumes; Scribner, one hundred volumes; Dodd & Mead, fifty volumes; Randolph, twenty-five volumes; Carleton, twenty-five volumes; United States Publishing Company, twenty volumes; H. S. Goodspeed, twenty volumes. H. B. Claffin gave six pieces of cloth for covering the books. Cash paid for books, pictures, stationery, express. age, printing, covering of books, etc., etc., $513.

DESERTING their old stand in Washington street, opposite the South Church, Messrs. Lee & Shepard have lately moved into the new building on the corner of Franklin and Hawley streets, of which they occupy the ground floor and basement. The building being on the southern side of Franklin street, the sun finds entrance both in front and on the side, thus giving that light and cheerful aspect so pleasing in a bookstore. The entire side of the store is utilized for shelving purposes, by running a gallery along the wall, to which access is given by a light and graceful staircase finished in ornamental work. The books are arranged on these shelves, according to subjects and quantities, there being room, should it be needed, for 500,000 vo'umes. On the Hawley street side is the mailing department, where also all orders for country libraries are filled, and back of this the counting rooms for Mr. A. C. Stockin, the New England agent of Messrs. Harper & Bros., are situated. The rear of the store is devoted to the counting rooms of the firm, each member having a separate one. designated by a silver plate on the door. The woodwork of the store is western oak and whitewood, the bookkeeper's desk being made of mahogany. The building is heated by steam, which, being conveyed to the bindery, gives power to a stationary engine, and thus the danger of communicating fire from one story to another by means of belting is avoided. In the basement are stored pipes, with hose attached, to be ready should there be fire. Access to the upper stories is gained by means of an elevator, which is run by a sixty-horse-power engine stationed in the basement.

MESSRS. HENRY BAINBRIDGE & Co. have just introduced one of the most use ul and at the same time one of the neatest and most tasteful stationers' articles that we have lately seen. It promises to effect the object for which so many devices have been employed in vain; namely, to keep the fingers free from ink stains. This new patent is for a strip of scolloped blotting-paper made in such form that it will fit the mouth of all ordinary inkstands. Drops of ink which usually cling to the pen and to the neck of the bottle are thus absorbed. It is arranged in rows of various colors in a neat box, and sells for twenty-five cents per box. For full description, see advertisement in this number.

The Book Trade Sale.

THE regular semi-annual book trade sale opened Tuesday morning, March 24, at Clinton Hall. The sale occupied just one week, and was for the most part animated and lively, bringing something above average prices-occasionally running quite high-and commanding a very fair attendance. The invoice of Messrs. D. Appleton & Co. stood first in the catalogue, and, with the blank-book work of Messrs. J. G. Shaw & Co., occupied the first day, which was notable for the high prices Hawks' "Biographical Cyclopædia" realized. (sheep, $6) brought $3.70 and $3.37. Benton's "Thirty Years' View" ($6) first sold at $3.60, afterwards at $1.90. Blot's "Cookery" brought $1.10 ($1.75). Buckle's "History of Civilization," a $6 book (line of 25), was taken at $3.50. Guizot's "Civilization" sold for $1 (retail $1.50). Macaulay complete brought $2.25 a vol. ($4). Mill's "Political Economy" brought $1.80 ($3). Herbert Spencer brought $1.30 a volume (retail $2.50). Among the lower prices realized were Alex. Stephens' "Reviewers Reviewed," a $1.50 book, selling for 22 1-2 c. Wilson's "Recovery of Jerusalem" (retail $3.50) at $1 50. Proctor's "Other Worlds than Ours" at $1 ($2.50), etc. The blank-book work did very well, bringing quite fair prices.

The good prices realized Tuesday continued Wednesday, though perhaps there were none so exceptionally high. The consignments of Messrs. Estes & Lauriat, Little, Brown & Co., W. J. Widdleton, Lee & Shepard, and others, were the ones offered, and secured a good attendance and an animated sale. Lord Campbell's "Chief Justices of England" (retail $3.50) tell at $2. Phillips' "Famous Cases of Circumstantial Evidence" (retail $2.25) sold at $1.25. Disraeli complete (retail $1.67) brought 95 c. per vol. Lamb complete (retail $1.80) was taken at $1.05 per vol., and Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy" (retail $1.75) was knocked down at $1. Oliver Optic's popularity was manifested in the readiness with which his works, in lines of 25, were eagerly taken at 87 1-2 c. and 90 c. (retail $1.50). Lee & Shepard's "Household Series of Standard Works" were taken at 90 c. (retail $1 50); their edition of Taylor's "Holy Living and Dying" (a $1.12 1-2 book) bringing 75 c.

Without attempting to follow the sale day by day, we will quote some of the characteristic prices obtained during the remaining four days. Of the importations of Scribner, Welford & Armstrong, Jacquemart's "History of the Ceramic Art" obtained $11.80 on a retail basis of $18. Armytage's "Collection of Pictures of British Artists" sold for $5.50 (retail $10.50). Niebuhr's "Rome" sold for $2.10 (retail $3.75). Buckle's posthumous works brought $4.50, it being a $7.50 book. In contrast to these, Solly's "Lite of David Cox" only obtained $4 (retail $18). Eastlake's "Gothic Revival," $3.50 (retail $13.5c). Jerrold's "Caudle's Curtain Lectures," 40 c. (retail (1.50). Maurice's "Moral Philosophy," $2.62 (retail $6.75). Their "Chandos Library" sold for 75 c. a volume, the retail price being $1.75. Of the books offered by Mr. A. English, of London, Sheridan's "Dramatic Works" brought $1.55 on a retail basis of $3.75. Taine's "English Literature," $4.25 (retail $10). The "Percy Anecdotes," $1.50 (retail $3.50). Hayden's "Dictionary of the Bible," $3 (retail $9) Van Nostrand's scintific works averaged about fifty per cent. of the retail prices, quite a number bringing sixty, while others fell down to twenty-five and thirty; Dodd & Mead's invoice averaged something under fifty, though it secured a quick sale, and in many instances was duplicated.

First on the catalogue of Scribner, Armstrong & Co. (the American house) stood a line of 50 of Verne's "From the Earth to the Moon," which fell at $1.75, the retail rate being $3. A line of 50 of Marion Harland's "Common Sense in the Household" was taken at $1.05 (retail $1.75). Woolsey's "Religion of the Present and the Future" (a $2 book) sold for 75 c. Lines of 25 and 50 of Dr. Holland's works brought on the average fifty per cent. of the retail prices, with the notable exception of "Arthur Bonnicastle," which was "jumped for" at $1.05 (retail $1.75). "Ik Marvel's" (D. G. Mitchell's) works fell at 75 c. and 95 c. (retail $1.75). De Vere's "Studies in English" was taken at $1.15 (retailed at $2.50.)

Friday was remarkable for containing both Osgood's and Roberts Brothers' consignments. Among the first on the former's list was Lytton's recent "Fables in Song," which brought $1.10 (retail $2). Some heliotype portfolios offered by them sold fairly at from 25 to 50 per cent. of catalogued prices. Howells' "Chance Acquaintance" sold for $1 15 (retail $2). Landor's "Cameos," for 80 c. (retail $2). Trowbridge's "Doing His Best," for 80 c. (retail $1.50). Miss Phelps' "Trotty's Wedding Tour," the same. Stedman's "Poems," for $1.45 (retail $2.50). Longfellow's "Aftermath," for 85 c. (retail $1.50). Reade's "Simpleton," for 50 c. ($1). Aldrich's "Marjory Daw," for 45 c. ($1.50). Higginson's "Oldport Days," for $1.35 ($2.50). Stoddard's "South Sea Idyls," for 65 c. ($1.50). Their library of novels brought 40 c. each, the retail price being 75 c. Mrs. Whitney's "Other Girls'

sold for $1 20 (line of 100), retailed at $2. Agassiz's "Journey in Brazil" was taken at $2.65

(retail $5).

On the Roberts' list, Miss Alcott's writings sold for 85 c. and 65 c. a vol., the retail price being $1.50. Hamerton's "Intellectual Life" and "Thoughts about Art," both $2 books, fell at $1.15. Louise Chandler Moulton's "Bed-Time Stories" (line of 50) was taken at 85 c, retailed at $1.50. Mrs. Somerville's "Recollections" sold for $1.50 (retail $2.50).

On Saturday, Messrs. Leavitt & Allen's books were offered. "Piigrim's Progress" was taken at 22 I-2 c (retail 75 c.) Mrs. Jameson's "Shake-speare's Characters," at $2.12 I-2 (retail $4.50). Tupper's "Proverbial Philosophy," at 35 c. (retail $1.25). "World" edition of Shakespeare (8 vols.), at 75 c. (retail $1.50). Watson's "Poetical Quotations," at 80 c. (retail $1.75), etc.

The albums and photographs were also sold the same day, bringing higher prices than usual, some of Faber's stereoscopic views, 6 c. each.

The sale closed on Monday, the 30th, with the invoices of the Catholic publishers, Mr. P. O'Shea and Messrs D. & J. Sadlier & Co. It being the last day of the sale the attendance fell off somewhat, as did also the prices. A few of these we give: L'Abbé's "History of the Catholic Church" brought $1.30 and $1.45 (retail $3). Lingard's "History of England," 40 c. (retail $1.50). Brownson's "American Republic," 85 c. and $1.10 (retail $3). Swift complete, 50 c. per vol. (retail $2).

We have given, of course, the more notable, therefore the higher prices; there was, however, the usual considerable quantity of books disposed of at "way down" rates. The catalogue was not above average spring size, but some of the prices ran much nearer the trade rates than usual, in one or two instances reaching them.

THE LIBRARY CORNER.

MR. WALTER C. HOOD, of Marietta, Ohio, has been appointed by Governor Allen as State Librarian to fill the position of S. G. Harbaugh, whose term expired on March 23. Mr. Harbaugh has served as Librarian twelve years from March, 1862, receiving consecutive appointments of two years each from six Governors. His daughter, Miss Mary C. Harbaugh, is retained as assistant.

At the last annual count of the books in Harvard College Library, there were 140,000 volumes, nearly 100,000 pamphlets, and nearly 50,000 duplicate pamphlets.

THE Bookseller notes that "the first catalogue of publications in the English language was compiled in 1595 by Andrew Maunsell, a bookseller of ability and eminence, who lived in Lothbury toward the close of the sixteenth century." It gives also the curious title and dedications.

Every Saturday lately had some very sensible remarks by Mr. Scudder on country free libraries, saying that "the public library is no more, of necessity, a great and expensive collection of books, than is the school a highly organized, splendidly endowed, and thoroughly equipped institution. A country school, with a teacher who has the teacher's faculty, has the essentials of a school; a country library containing the books that make readers and thinkers, has the essentials of a library." He desires the establishment of small local libraries of books to be read, and the abandonment of the ideal of a great, permanent collection of books. It might be as simple a matter to have a district library as to have a district school; and if, as every district school is part of a system, every little library were also part of a well-ordered system, then we might have not only our great libraries in the city, our highly organized city schools, our colleges and their libraries; but also a great network of small lending libraries, connected with our country schools, and so ordered that there should be an economical use of the same material, and each library should be not a solitary and independent collection, but one that is part of a general sytem.

Il Intermédiaire des Chercheurs (French Notes and Queries), which came to a stop in 1870, is attempting to resume operations by sending to its subscribers the number of August 10, 1870, as it was left at the time. It advertises, on its fourth page, a new periodical of the same kind, which is to bear the formidable name of Myriobiblion.

THE University Library of Strasburg has increased 80,000 volumes during the past year, and now numbers about 300,000 volumes in all. Half of these additions have been procured by purchase, the rest through public and private donations.

THE new librarian of the Berlin Library will be Prof. Lepsius.

MESSRS. TRUBNER'S "Catalogue of Important Works in all Departments of Science and Literature," 152 pages, consists entirely of those works of which Messrs. Trübner are the publishers or the agents, and is especially rich in Asiatic, American, and Linguistic books.

EDWARDS' LIBRARY MANUALS.—To meet the wishes of several valued correspondents, engaged in the formation of public Libraries in India, in America, and in the Colonies, to whom the publications of Mr. Edwards on the subject furnish the most valuable aid, Messrs. Trübner & Co. will, for a short time only, supply complete sets of the six volumes at the reduced price of £3 3s, instead of £5 15s, at which they were published. The set comprises: I. "Memoirs of Libraries," including a "Practical Handbook of Library Economy," 2 vols. II. "Libraries and Founders of Libraries," I vol. III. "Free Town Libraries, their Formation, Working, and Results in Britain, France, Germany, and America," I vol.; and, IV., "Lives of the Founders and other Benefactors of the British Museum."

A TOUCHING STORY.

JOHN HATHERTON. By the author of "Effie's Friends. 18mo...........75 cts.

One of the most touching stories in print. No one can read it without having awakened in him the better feelings of his nature.

There are nine stories for the young in this little volume. Each is an argument against some fault—selfishness, revenge, theft, pride, etc., or an exhortation to some virtue of Christian character. The stories are very neatly told, and embalm the moral so that it will be preserved, and may be useful.

LET WELL ALONE. By the author of "But Once." Illustrated. 16mo......$1.25

A story of an ingenious and skilful mechanic, who succeeded well in his business, but who was never content with moderate success, but always giving up one kind of business as soon as it began to pay, and rushing into something new that promised better. It is only too true a picture of what we see almost every day. The book contains an important lesson, forcibly illustrated.

The Martyrdom of Man.

By Winwood Reade. 12mo, cloth, pp. 543.$3.00

"It is a splendid book, you may depend upon it! It is the best thing Trübner (the great London house) ever published."

-Charles Bradlaugh.

"The author has travelled extensively in Africa and the East, and, musing among unknown tribes and the crumbling ruins of past greatness, has developed a historic spirit not unlike that which Gibbon tells us he himself was inspired with amid the relics of ancient Rome. In this spirit he has given us, under the four heads of War, Religion, Liberty, and Intellect, a history of the growth of these forces, and their action and reaction on the race. We can conceive of no more attractive form for presenting a summary of world history to the student, and must confess to a most agreeable surprise and pleasure in the perusal of the few chapters we have examined. His history has a continuity, a rush, a carrying power—if we may use the term—which remind us strikingly of Gibbon, and will be sure to make the reader lay it aside with reluctance."—New Haven Daily Palladium.

"There will be plenty of readers who will find in the work food for which they are hungty and eager."—Boston Journal.

"Mr. Reade is now one of the most experienced of living travellers in Central Africa. . . . Is an able and agreeable writer, and has here amassed a multitude of facts and comments into a very pleasant volume."—N. V. Daily Times.

"Those who wish to learn the tendencies of modern thought, and to look at past history from the standpoint of one who accepts the doctrine of evolution in its entirety, would do well to read this remarkable book. All the radicalisms of the times in philosophy and religion are restated here with remarkable vigor and force."—The Daily Graphic.

"We consider the book dangerous in the highest degree, the more so that its brilliant rhetoric and its very audacity give it a stall charm."—Hartford Post.

The Yankee Letter File and Binder.

WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD TO EQUAL IT.

The superiority of the Yankee Letter File and Binder over all others consists of the following improvements:

TSt. It has an ELLIPTICAL SPRING made of tempered steel with three coils in the middle, extending the entire length of the File head, while the French File made in this country has two brass springs, one at each end, but three inches in length which are soon gone and another file must be purchased.

2d. The Yankee Letter File and Binder is not made in book form with flapping covers which are soon cut off by raising the bar that passes over the needles in binding the book.

3d. Our File only occupies half the room on your desk when in use.

4th. The bar that holds the letters is raised with much greater ease and less annoyance, as the spring is long and will never break.

5th. It is made of black walnut and sheet brass, and is very ornamental, having 25 times the durability of any File in the market. 6th. It has a guide at the ends of the File Head which renders it impossible to make your book anything but square, and

7th. Should any part of the Yankee Letter File and Binder get out of repair, which will never happen by any fair usage, you can get any part of it sent by express and replaced by your own hands without tools.

8th. One of the most important points of all connected with the Yankee File is the Needles. They are of the best of steel with fine points, and will never bend in passing your papers over them, and are so constructed at the points, as you see by figure 2 in cut, that you can complete the binding of your book instantly after taken from the Machine or File.

With each Letter File will be found printed directions which will enable any one to handle this article without trouble.

Fig 2, shows your letters after bound in book form.

Fig 2, shows your perfect after bound in book form.

Fig 2, shows your netters after bothed in book form.

Fig 2, shows you one set of needles which are held in Letter File by two SCREWS until filled with letters. They are then removed from the machine and the BRASS TUBE is passed over the points, completing your book as seen in Fig. 3.

We desire your patronage, trusting we can please you both in price, quality of goods, etc.

For sale by all stationery dealers throughout the U.S.

We will-further state to the trade in this line of goods that we have no canvassers out from office to office as do many other men.

TWENTIETH THOUSAND.

SINS CONJUGAL

Laws of Life and Health

THEIR EFFECTS UPON THE FATHER, MOTHER, AND CHILD.

BY AUGUSTUS K. GARDNER, A.M., M.D.,

Late Professor of Diseases of Females and Clinical Midwifery in the New York Medical College TWENTIETH THOUSAND. REVISED EDITION, WITH A NEW PREFACE.

FROM THE PREFACE TO THE TWENTIETH THOUSAND.

" Four years have elapsed since, with some misgivings, this work was presented to the public. unceasing demand-till nearly twenty thousand copies were spread over the country; the public and privale commendation of it, by the wisest and best of the nation, by the clergy, teachers, and the heads of families; the many letters almost daily received, during this entire period, from the married and single, from priests and sisters vowed to celibacy, from the libertine, the depraved, the imprudent, of criticism, praise, thanks, asking for advice, for guidance, for professional treatment; the frequent reference made to it by public speakers and writers, in speeches and essays, by moralists and reformers—these reasons, to mention no others, have convinced me not only of the public interest, but far more—that it has filled a want, and effected a real, lasting good to the community. . . . Owing to difficulties in settling the estate of the original publisher retiring from business, this work has been for nearly two years out of print. that in the future no such accident may occur, but that all who desire its instruction may be able to obtainit."

ENDORSEMENTS AND OPINIONS.

"A. K. GARDNER, M.D.—My Dear Sir: Your letter and book came to me last month, and I have delayed to acknowledge in the hope that I might find time amid my heavy duties edge in the hope that I might find time amid my heavy duties press ng on age to read the book a second time and weigh it m re accurately. My impressions about it are: 1. That it is ab v written; full, clear, explicit, and instructive. I think the profest parts are your quotations from French authors. 2. That it will do good when put into the right hands. I confess to fears lest some of the information you convey may be abused both by the married and the unmarried.

Perhaps these secrets had better betold, but the devil may hand one's fingers into a flame even though the fire came Perhips these secrets had better be told, but the devil may thrust one's fingers into a flame even though the fire came from God's altars. You have done well, and I hail every attempt to litt up or hold back poor humanity from evil most praiseworthy. Were you to hear all the confessions about "Conjugal Sins' which might be made, your ears would give out under the wail. Be of good courage; do all the good you can; every man in his own way. Yours, sir, most truly, "Pittsfield, March 31, 1870. John Todd."

'The questions there discussed are exceedingly d flicult to present in just the right view and with the true physiological intent. You have succeeded admirably—bester than any DR. NATHAN ALLEN." other writer, in my opinion.

"Dr. Gardner claims a right to be heard, as a physician who has spent twenty-five years in the almost exclusive study and practice of that particular branch of his profession known as the Diseases of Females; and as a man who fession known as the Diseases of Females; and as a man who feels deeply his responsibility to breast the tide of error, sin, and misery that is overwhelming the community in consequence of unholy practices. . . It is a sound, earnest book, written with knowledge, purpose, and feeling. The subject is of immense and urgent interest, and should be taken up by men of social position and professional eminence whose word has authority. There is, perhaps, no class of subjects on which the community at large more needs plain, wise teaching. . . Let all who know their duty perform it as ably and earnestly as Dr. Gardner has done, and a salutary impression will be made on the public mind and heart, the good results of which will appear in an improved state of private and public morals."—New York Tribune.

66 Such important information is given in this book in reference to the more healthful bringing up of our daughters, more rally and physically, and the relation of the sexes, that no farer: will fail of reading every line in the book with the most absorbing interest. It is a boon to womankind."—Hall s Journal of Health.

"There are laws stated in this work of Dr. Gardner, which no man or woman can forgive himself in the future for not understanding and obeying now. Their operation concerns the very highest interests of the domestic and socal state."—Banner of Light.

"This is a bold sort of book that treats in an outspoken. direct, earnest, vigorous way, some topics generally ignored by writers through squeamish tenderness toward the sensibilities of Society. . . . There is no topic properly within the range of the title that is not treated with competent authority and excellent discretion."—N. Y. Herald.

"No one, young or old, should be without the important information it contains."—Frank Leslie's Illustr. Paper.

"The author's words are of great import, and deserve serious attention. They are, too, so delicately chosen that they can give no offense to the most fastidious."—Evening Post (Chicago).

"Dr. Gardner speaks plainly of the growing fishionable vice of non-childbearing, and the evils consequent thereupon to individuals and society. He feels earnestly as we las talks plainly, and it will be well for America if his warnings and suggestions are heeded."—Commonwealth (Boston).

"It is unexceptionable in tone and calculated to be very useful in its advice. We hope it will be sold and read and its counsels heeded."--Congregationalist.

"It is written in the best spirit, scientific and moral, and it ought to be read by husbands and wives, and fathers and mothers."—N. Y. Independent.

"---It is elevated in tone, thorough and yet delicate in treatment."-Home Journal, N. Y.

" The new TRIBUNE of to-day, like the old TRI-BUNE of the past, is to be consecrated to the development of ideas, the exposition of principles, and the promulgation

The unanimous and unsolicited verdict of the hundreds of thousands of readers of THE TRIBUNE, is that the paper was never so good as at the present time. During the past year it has enlarged its field and improved its facilities in every direction, and enters upon the year 1874, which is to be one of the most important in public and political affairs, with most encouraging prospects. THE TRIBUNE, however, believes in deeds rather than in words, in results rather than in promises. It points to its record and its columns for the past twelve months as the best evidence of what it has done, and the most satisfactory pledge of what it will do. All the distinctive features of the paper will be preserved and strengthened; the "Extras," whose sale has reached hundreds of thousands, will be continued; the front of its new building completed, and the present admitted pre-eminence of the paper not only maintained, but still further advanced.
